

College Board Reserves Condemnation Right

Threat Issued on Ryan Site

Coachella Valley Junior College District trustees last night "moved decisively" for their first conclusive action on a college site.

Backing up their determination to acquire the college site of their choice, junior college district trustees last night issued a "polite threat" of legal action by approving a resolution of intent to condemn 340 acres of privately owned land at Indian Wells Cove.

BUT, COLLEGE of the Desert President Roy McCall told trustees that their action doesn't obligate them to proceed with formal condemnation of the prospective college site, owned by oilman Ray Ryan and Barney Hinkle.

"This doesn't commit the board, but it does clear the decks for condemnation," McCall told trustees at their regular board meeting in Palm Desert last night. "We should equip ourselves for further action."

McCALL SAID THE resolution was recommended by County Counsel Ray Sullivan. McCall said that the resolution will serve to "tie down the price" and prevent an "artificial increase" in the property value.

It will not render the board liable for further action along this line, McCall said, quoting Sullivan, but will serve as something of a "peaceful threat," which would not affect "natural" property value increases.

McCALL ADVISED the board to adopt the resolution, pointing out that "the board must move decisively to a conclusion on a site."

However, it was explained, this action does not constitute a final conclusion and does not preclude further negotiations for three other prospective sites for the future College of the Desert.

Board action followed hard on the heels of further negotiation yesterday with property owner Ryan.

THE RESOLUTION, adopted by four of the five board members, was also shadowed by the first glimmerings of what may grow into district-wide controversy over the Indian Wells Cove site east of Palm Desert.

Board Member David McGahey abstained from voting on the resolution after questioning the allegation that the board would not incur any liability.

Board President Don Mitchell reported that the site committee met with Ryan for the third time yesterday and climaxed negotiations with, at least, an exchange of offers.

Mitchell said Ryan would sell all but the Highway 111 frontage of the property and quoted a price for the remainder. The remainder of the property is acceptable to the board, but the price is prohibitive, Mitchell said.

In prior negotiations, Ryan said he wouldn't sell the land, originally offered by Hinkle at $800,000, "for any price," according to district officials.

BOARD MEMBERS greeted the hint of a prospective controversy over the prospective site as an "unfortunate situation."

The Desert Sun reported yesterday that the Cathedral City Chamber of Commerce formally opposed the Indian Wells Cove site because it is not close enough to the valley's population center.

A consensus of Palm Springs Chamber directors also favored a location closer to Palm Springs.

BOARD PRESIDENT Mitchell expressed concern and regret over any possible conflict between communities of the east and west portions of the Coachella Valley.

Blues Singer

Billie Holiday Succumbs Today

NEW YORK (UP) — Blues singer Billie Holiday died early today in Metropolitan Hospital after a long illness. She was 44.

Miss Holiday entered the hospital May 31 in serious condition with several ailments. Death, which came at 3:20 a.m. (e.d.t.), today, was caused by "congestion of the lungs, complicated by failure of the heart," an associate said.

HER HUSBAND, Louis McKay, had been with her until a few moments before her death, the hospital said.

The Negro singer, who had hit the top of her profession, then fell to the depths in the throes of narcotics addiction, was said to have licked the habit and to have been on her way back when, in the words of her booking agent, "her motor just wore out."

SHE HAD BEEN arrested on a narcotics charge after entering the hospital when a nurse found tell-tale signs of white powder on her face. Her attorney told the court at that time that she would "never leave her bed."

Joe Glaser, president of Associated Booking Corp., said "this sickness is not the direct result of her using dope. It's the result of a concoction of everything she did in the last 20 years." Glaser said she began drinking heavily after she beat the narcotics habit and neglected her health.

WEATHER

Desert area forecast:
Mostly sunny today and Saturday but some cloudiness with chance few isolated afternoon and evening thundershowers. Slightly warmer this afternoon. Highs today 100-115. Yesterday's high was 112, the low 75.

1000 Palms Acts on Jr. College Site

Chamber Also Protests Proposed County Dump Site

THOUSAND PALMS — Chamber of Commerce directors last night drafted unanimous resolutions opposing a prospective junior college site, a new county dump site and telephone rate increases.

Chamber President Mina Welcome said the chamber board addressed a letter to the Coachella Valley Junior College District Board of Trustees favoring a Rio Del Sol Road site for the future College of the Desert.

DIRECTORS ALSO "vigorously protested" a County Planning Commission recommendation to purchase an 80-acre dump site "on the doorstep of Thousand Palms," Mrs. Welcome said.

The third resolution attacked proposed rate increase of the Coachella Valley Home Telephone Co.

On the college site, chamber director's expressed a strong preference for Hank Gogery's 2-40 acres on Rio del Sol Road, as opposed to the Indian Wells Cove location now being sought by the college board.

MRS. WELCOME said the board of directors is also "very much worked up" over planning commission recommendations to purchase 80 acres of land for a dump site north of East Ramon Road just west of the Southern Pacific Railroad tracks.

"We don't feel that the other communities of the valley should bring their garbage here and dump it on our front door," Mrs. Welcome explained.

The board criticized proposed "40 or 50 per cent" telephone rate increases principally because "our area is the only one that doesn't have texted services." Thousand Palms telephone subscribers must now pay toll charges for all calls outside the community, Mrs. Welcome pointed out.

The board also felt that telephone equipment should be upgraded.

Big Four Secret Meetings Start

GENEVA (UP) — The West launched a new round of secret Big Four talks today with a demand that Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev withdraw the war threat from Berlin at once if he really means his latest pledge of peace.

2 Survivors Cling to Life After Accident

Man, Woman Still 'In Very Critical' Condition—Report

SPECIAL TO THE DESERT SUN — Two survivors of yesterday's bloody, six-death collision near Beaumont clung to life today at hospitals in Banning and Redlands but authorities at both hospitals said the victims were "in very critical condition."

The survivors came from each of the two cars that smashed in a rending, head-on crash on U. S. Highway 60 shortly before dawn yesterday.

HERSCHEL LANEY, 25, was pronounced as "still in very critical condition" by officials at San Geronimo Pass Memorial Hospital in Banning this morning. Laney was driving the car which, according to California Highway Patrol officers, cut across the highway and plowed at high speed into a car driven by Jesse G. Bell, 30, of Mesa, Ariz.

Bell died instantly, but his wife, Mrs. Mamie H. Bell, also 30, was reported as "still alive—but in critical condition" today at Redlands Community Hospital.

HOSPITAL AUTHORITIES in Redlands said that Mrs. Bell will require "extensive" plastic surgery. She apparently went through the windshield of the Bell automobile in the impact of the crash.

Five members of Laney's family also died in the collision which CHP investigators described as "one of the bloodiest this area has ever had."

Wife, Martha, 21; son, Terry, 4; wife, Martha, 21; son, Terry, 4; his brother, Olin, 17; his mother, Selma, 50, and his father, Eugene, 54.

CHP OFFICIALS said that Laney told them in Banning Hospital he had seen a fence in a construction zone west of Beaumont that he thought cut the roadway to one lane.

As he crossed the double line, he smashed head-on into the Bell vehicle.

Aid Compromise Expected Today

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate House negotiators were expected to stamp their final approval today on a compromise foreign aid program of about $3,500,000,000.

FIREMEN WADED THROUGH a pair of blistering brush fires almost simultaneously yesterday afternoon. The fire fighters were squelching a fast-moving brush blaze on the east of Maurice Brenick's home, 184 Camino Encanto, when a second fire flared up in a densely packed stand of brush on the west side of the dwelling (pictured here). Neither fire caused any damage to the home.

76 Beauties Get Used to Stares In Universe Fete

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UP) — Shapely beauties gathered here from throughout the world seeking to win the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant spent today getting used to the ogling of American men.

The 76 girls from 34 foreign countries and most of the United States were slated for a day of shopping and sightseeing.

THREE MORE ENTRANTS, Miss Turkey, Miss Belgium and Miss Italy—are expected to join their 76 competitors here tonight.

Most of the beauties arrived in a plane from New York Thursday and were greeted by some 2,000 cheering, wide-eyed aficionados of the feminine curve.

The foreign entrants were attractively turned out in costumes native to their country and elicited their due volume of "ohs" and "ahs" from the appreciative crowd.

STEEL STRIKE BRINGS CUTS IN RELATED LABOR RANKS

PITTSBURGH (UP) — The strike against the nation's basic steel industry cut deeper into employment in related fields today.

With no further peace talks scheduled until Monday at the earliest, United Steelworkers President David J. McDonald and his top lieutenants carried their fight for a better contract to the picket lines.

IN ADDITION to the half-million USW members who struck at mills from coast-to-coast at one minute after midnight last Tuesday, it was estimated that more than 25,000 railroaders, truckdrivers, miners and seamen were idle because of the steel strike. More layoffs in those lines were expected to raise the total to $75,000 in another week or two.

The possibility of a second metals industry strike grew when the USW presented virtual carbon copies of its major steel demands to the nation's three major aluminum producers, Alcoa, Reynolds and Kaiser. About 31,500 workers in the three companies come under contracts that run out July 31.

McDONALD TOOK his argument to the men in the mill Thursday and showed up at the Bethlehem Steel Co. plant in Bethlehem, Pa., where he addressed an estimated 2,500 workers.

He bitterly assailed the industry's negotiating team as a pack of "messenger boys" who had "absolutely no authority to negotiate."

Tax Appraiser Speigleman to Attend Seminar

Newly appointed California Inheritance Tax Appraiser Stanley Speigleman has been named to attend the Northern California Inheritance Tax Appraisers seminar Saturday in Palo Alto.

Speigleman was one of only four appraisers outside the Northern California region to be invited to the session.

The Village real estate representative is considered a "possible choice" for arrangements in the November convention of California Inheritance Tax Appraisers.

VILLAGER SUFFERS SHOULDER FRACTURE IN SIERRA MISHAP

VISALIA — (UP) — An injured Palm Springs man removed from high in the Sierra by helicopter may be released from a local hospital in two or three days, attendants reported today.

Albert Moser, 54, was lifted from a 12,500-foot high meadows near Mt. Whitney in Sequoia National Park by a turbo-jet helicopter piloted by Capt. Walter Hodgson. The craft is one of 13 such "copters" being tested at Edwards Air Force Base for the Army.

Dr. Vincent M. Dungan, attending physician, reported Moser, who was dragged by a pack mule Tuesday, was not as seriously injured as first feared. He said Moser suffered a shoulder fracture but apparently there was no kidney damage.

McDonald said "steel does not want a new contract . . . there talks were as phony as a seven-dollar bill."

EACH DAY THE strike continues, the United States loses 300,000 ingot-tons of steel. The workers will have lost about 62 million dollars in wages by the end of the first week and the industry 246 million dollars in business.

Picketing was reported orderly at steel mills across the country, but at one plant a too-close check on the picket line backfired.

A scheduled payday Thursday for 2,000 workers at the American Steel and Wire plant at Joliet, Ill., was cancelled because pickets refused to permit a payroll employee to enter the mill.

Business Drops

Strike Impact On Town Told

BRADDOCK, Pa. (UP) — When a strike settles over a steel town like this one, life becomes pretty miserable.

It's the waiting and uncertainty that makes time drag.

Not only does it affect the day-to-day life of the steel worker and his family, but in one way or another it touches just about everyone in town.

THE MAN WHO operates the corner grocery sees business drop. The woman who owns the neighborhood beauty parlor has no trouble with appointments—there was no waiting list.

At the cigar stand, the salesman tells you he's still taking in nickels and dimes "but if the strike lasts long it will cut my business by one-third."

James Roy, an automobile dealer, is one man who remembers only too well what a steel strike can do.

"The last one nearly wiped me out," he said. "If this one goes on long, it could finish the job on me."

Decision Told By Brother Early Today

Nation Asked To Keep Calm, Remain on Jobs

HAVANA (UP) — Fidel Castro has resigned as Prime Minister of Cuba, his brother, Raul Castro said today.

Raul, who is chief of the armed forces, said Fidel would report to the people by radio on his reasons tonight.

There was speculation that Castro had resigned to become minister of state in order to lead the Cuban delegation to the meeting of the Organization of American States in Chile next month when Caribbean tension will be discussed.

IT WAS ALSO suggested that Castro's move was a maneuver to gain for him a vote of confidence. There were no indications the resignation was being forced upon him.

In a brief statement broadcast over the rebel radio, Raul called on the nation to maintain serenity and wait for his brother's pronouncements.

Raul said the people should keep calm "and wait for the responsible and convincing words from Dr. Fidel Castro."

THE REBEL RADIO also called on the working class to remain at their jobs and said workers should not resort to any strike action which "only serve the enemy interests in the nation."

News of Castro's impending resignation swept like wildfire across the city. The Executive Board of the giant Cuban Confederation of Labor met in emergency session to draft measures to prove their support for Castro. The organized University Students Federation called on members to be ready for similar demonstrations.

THE BEARDED CASTRO, 33, who spearheaded the two-year revolution which overthrew Fulgencio Batista last Jan. 1, was the youngest Prime Minister in Cuba's history.

There have been almost daily reports of conspiracies aimed at overthrowing the Castro regime and of government counter-measures.

saloons and taverns aren't too worried right now. They say they get some business during a walk-out "cause the guys have too much time on their hands and have nothing else to do."

But the tavernkeeper's headache comes later, when the strike is over.

"That's when the men stay away in order to save money to pay off their debts," said Pete Tampas, one of the barkeepers.

MAURICE BRAUN, owner of Braun's Jewelry Store here, is one of many small businessmen whose sales plunge downward.

"These people don't have any money to kick around on luxuries like watches and jewelry. They're too concerned with stretching the dollar to meet the food bills for their kids. And a typical steel worker usually has a pretty big family," Braun said.

Lucy Bartlett, who runs a beauty parlor, never saw business so bad.

"Women are fixing their own hair now. My trade is off 40 per cent already and the strike is only three days old."

Warning Issued On Polio Upswing

WASHINGTON — UPI — Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney warned today that crippling polio is on the upward march this summer—particularly among the unvaccinated.

The nation's health chief said that about nine out of 10 of the cases have been reported among persons who have not had anti-polio shots.

BURNEY also told United Press International the number of cases of paralytic polio this year is more than double the toll at this time last year.

The Public Health Service said there were 631 cases of paralytic polio reported through the first 26 weeks of 1959. This compares with 329 victims during the same period last year and "reflects the consistently upward trend of polio cases since April."

DR. BURNEY said preliminary figures to be made public later today show the polio rate rise continued this week.

Kansas City, Kan., Des Moines, Iowa, Little Rock, Ark., and Oklahoma City, Okla., were the hard-hit areas which have reported a "substantially greater" number of cases this year.

"I CANNOT URGE too strongly," Burney said, "the need for pushing ahead with the drive to vaccinate the unvaccinated. It is not too late either to start or complete the Salk shot series."

Dr. Burney described as "highly encouraging" the intensive community drives which have been conducted in recent months with the resulting inoculation of hundreds of thousands of persons.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

DEAR ABBY: My sister's adopted son is now 14 years old. He was never told that he was adopted for this reason:

Years ago, my sister's husband had an affair with a young girl who worked for him. This boy is the result of that affair. My sister had no children and wanted a family badly so they adopted this baby. Everything was done legally.

Do you think my sister should tell her son the story of his real mother and father? If so, when should she tell him, and how?

KEEPING A SECRET
DEAR KEEPING: The boy should be told he is adopted, and the sooner the better. Since this information is recorded on his birth certificate, he is likely to learn about it accidentally. No good purpose would be served in revealing the ugly fact that his father had an illicit affair and he descended from a long line his mother once listened to. But, if the boy's real father's name appears on the birth certificate, he had better be told who his real father is. Period.

DEAR ABBY: I am going with a very lovely young lady. She flies for an airline. She meets a lot of attractive men in her work. I am serious about this girl and she says she is serious about me. I trust her, but I'd rather not have her in that line of work. She says I am foolish to feel the way I do. Am I wrong?

THE BOYFRIEND
DEAR BOYFRIEND: You are a girl who "flies" will have no trouble keeping her feet on the ground if she's really in love.

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law called me up and asked me to please not come for dinner (my husband and me) because she had some unexpected company and she didn't want to have 13 at her table. Bad luck, you know. She invited us a week ago. We got our sitter and were all set to go when this call came about four in the afternoon. I was never so hurt in all my life. My husband said to forget it (it is his sister) but I can't forget it. He says their whole family is superstitious that way. Do you think this was a good enough excuse to call and disinvite us?

HURT
DEAR HURT: Your sister-in-law is not only superstitious — she is thoughtless, inconsiderate and lacking in imagination. If she really wanted you, she could have invited another person and had FOURTEEN at her table!

DEAR ABBY: I have a fairly close friend whom I haven't seen in over six months as he lives out of town. I knew she was expecting a baby but heard nothing more about it. Then I heard the shocking news that her baby had been a Mongoloid. I don't know whether to write to her expressing my sorrow, write and congratulate her as though it were a normal child, to send a gift or ignore the whole thing. I feel terrible about this and don't know how to handle the situation.

A FRIEND
DEAR FRIEND: Acknowledge the birth of the baby with a gift. It isn't necessary to make any reference to the unfortunate fact that the baby was abnormal.

CONFIDENTIAL TO SHIRLEY: Life begins at 40! And from then on — it goes like 60! Live a little.

VFW Auxiliary Plans Three Social Events

Three important events are on the agenda for the Ladies Auxiliary to Frontier Post 5987, VFW and were disclosed by President Louise Paul when the Auxiliary met this week at the Palm Desert home of member Marvel Barrett.

Announced were the incoming and outgoing president's dinner to be held this month with members and friends invited, a dance party to be held jointly with the Post in August, and inspection of the Auxiliary by senior vice president of the 22nd district, May Goodrich, on October 13. Preparations for all events are now under way.

Preceding the meeting a ham dinner with all the trimmings was served to those attending, which included families of members.

Gerry Mitchell Ends Vacation; Trip Set Later

Gerry Mitchell is back at his desk at Bank of America after a three week vacation, most of it spent around home with an occasional trip to Los Angeles to attend the Dodge ball games and a trip to Disneyland and Marineland with the Mitchell's two younger children.

The Mitchells plan on taking a trip together later, as both are working and find it difficult to make vacation plans coincide.

SPECIAL HONOR was paid 18 City of Hope auxiliaries from throughout the nation at the National Medical Center's 1959 biennial convalesce at Ambassador Hotel, Los Angeles. Chosen from 384 chartered auxiliaries, representing 128 cities, the chapters were recipients of first annual Golder Awards for outstanding achievement in various fields of fund-raising. Award was inspired by Samuel H. Golder, for 33 years executive vice president of free, non-sectarian organization, who announced retirement at convention. Among auxiliaries singled out for recognition was the Palm Springs Chapter. Mrs. Fae Brezin, president, accepts award from Golder, left, and Harry H. Schwartz, City of Hope vice president.

COOK'S TOUR

Continental Food Delicious, But U.S. Specialties Best

NEW YORK (UPI) — As a tourist who has eaten her way across the U.S.A. and western Europe, may I echo the sentiments of many Americans returning this summer from their first trip abroad?

Continental food is delicious. But for a steady diet, this native Kansan will take American regional, as practiced in hundreds of fine restaurants from coast to coast.

UPI correspondent Robert Musel recently wrote: "The best all-round restaurant food in the world is in the United States—especially New York."

He was telling only half the story. As Musel implied, in visiting leading New York restaurants feature foreign cuisine.

And "all-round" restaurant food isn't really that. Unless it also includes regional specialties of this country. To taste them at their best, you must head for the hills and the plains, for the bayous, the farm country and fishing centers where the best ingredients are home-grown.

Unfortunately, few of our severest food critics — the French and the English — test this theory because their budgets seldom allow trips beyond this major port city.

How many foreign visitors ever lunch at Grand Saline, Tex? I did, and enjoyed the tastiest and biggest shrimp salad of my eating career, in a highway restaurant close enough to the Gulf of Mexico for the shrimp to have that fresh-caught flavor.

Crab gumbo, a rich, thick soup served at a counter — and both restaurant in Opelousas, La., was as good as any in the great restaurants of New Orleans.

I've dined on rainbow trout in Aspen and Estes Park, Colo., ranch style eggs (fried or poached, topped with hot tomato sauce) and refried beans (boiled pinto beans fried until slightly dry and topped with grated cheese) in New Mexico, Texas, and Arizona, and superb waffles in Williamsburg, Va.

For my money, the Old House Restaurant in Louisville, Ky., can match omelets with any French chef.

New Orleans is another gastronomic giant. Try oysters Bien-ville, grabmeat imperial and other local dishes at Commander's Palace in the garden district.

Spicy barbecued ribs and fried chicken-in-a-basket are available in so many good southern and southwestern restaurants that it's impossible to choose a "best." But Memphis, Tenn., is a good place to start.

Possibly America's greatest contribution to gastronomy is beef. We raise the world's best and know how to cook it. Denver's Buckhorn Restaurant, Boston's Durgin-Park and the Krebs family-style restaurant in Skaneateles, N. Y., are among my favorites on the steak-roast beef circuit.

Robert Kreis, consultant chef for a major American food packer, once told me that American food can't be beat for quality, quantity, and year-round availability.

The best way for a tourist to test his statement is in restaurants whose specialties are regional.

One tip: in making a meal stop, look for a restaurant parking lot with many local license plates. Any place the home folks choose has food that is good — at prices that are right.

Longer Jacket Is the Largest Change In Basic of Fall Wardrobe--the Suit

By GAY PAULEY

United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The longer jacket is the largest change in the basic of a woman's fall wardrobe — the suit.

But the new length, to the wrist and even longer when the arm is down, may not be for you, warns one of Seventh Avenue's top suit designers.

"Some women just can't wear the long jacket," said Ben Zuckerman, twice winner of the American Fashion Critic's award. "It is not becoming to a short, rather plump woman."

Zuckerman, like most of the garment center's suit makers, leans toward the longer jackets throughout his collection. But he also makes 'em for the short figure — jackets shaped slightly and coming only to the natural waistline.

But the best looking suits—at least on the statuesque models—are the tunics. These have straight skirts, with jackets ranging in length from wrist bone to that of a 3/4-length coat.

Zuckerman showed them with crushed leather belts three and four inches wide. But, unbelted, they are just as natty — he has used tucks and other tailoring detail to shape the tunics to the waistline and upper hip bone. Several tunic jackets are uncolored, for the woman who wants to show off a fur piece or a bright scarf.

Zuckerman also copies the man's cutaway jacket, showing it topping a straight skirt or one with enough tucking at the waistline for an oval shape.

The designer is a member of the New York couture group, showing fall collections to visiting reporters this week.

A new shoulder treatment for coats, suits and daytime costumes is Zuckerman's "epaulette," a flat fold of fabric cut with the yoke and jutting out about an inch over the area where the sleeve is sewn in.

Two other suit firms — Paul Parnes and George Carmel — stress the long jacket. Carmel jackets reach the mid-thigh with the bodice moulded to the figure.

American Patience With Soviet Visitors May Pay Off In Wider Spread of Truth

Now that visits to the United States by high ranking Russian officials seem to be in the process of becoming a probable periodic occurrence, an interesting pattern of reaction is beginning to make itself apparent among Americans generally.

Significant similarities are easily noted in the attitude of the American public as evidenced towards the two most recent top Soviet visitors in the persons of deputies Mikoyan and Kozlov.

The outstanding and universal feature of American behavior with respect to touring Red leaders, as reflected in the press widely noted by expert observers, is one of polite and restrained but none the less deep seated resentment against according the "red carpet treatment" to such Russians. This is soundly stated to be because these men were prominently responsible for mass purges, executions and blood baths such as occurred in Hungary, and instigators of the numerous and recurring "incidents" involving unprovoked attacks against and frequent imprisonment or detention of Americans.

The second principal similar reaction by local citizens of these United States during such visits is one of distinct distrust of the "peaceful" protestations of the Soviet emissaries. Uttering of high sounding phrases and meaningless platitudes fool no one. Beneath this thinly veiled veneer most Americans have detected Russian determination and confidence in undermining this nation via cut-rate economic competition and the political "cold" war.

In view of the many reasons Americans have for snubbing, excluding or even openly demonstrating against Russian Communist leaders, also for disbelieving every word they speak, the people of this country are deserving of praise for their good judgment in deciding to quietly accede to the present diplomatic policy of polite formal endurance of official and civilian exchanges of visitors between the two nations.

Any other course could easily disturb international affairs and create new difficulties.

As it is, America actually stands to lose little to touring Reds. Our major nuclear secrets have long since been stolen and sent to Russia by the network of Communist spies with which this country has been infested for decades. The present space race depends more upon speed than secrecy.

On the other hand, top Soviets may learn and become convinced of a number of important facts and truths which in the long run will work to our advantage. One of these was driven home during Kozlov's short sojourn when his chance statement, that Russia had repaid the United States in gold for extensive aid rendered to that country during its great famine, was pointed out to be false and he admitted his mistake. Apparently the First Deputy had either believed Russian propaganda or failed to acquaint himself thoroughly as to what was true and what was false about America in "boning" up on the published Soviet versions. Every visitor from Russia must observe many other things which give the "lie" to Soviet claims even though not so openly admitted.

In the long range view several obvious conclusions can be drawn as to eventual results if interchange of visiting, both official and civilian, continues. Even the Russian hierarchy will soon receive about the same notice and attention as similar representatives from other nations. Americans will learn more about Russia, particularly her shortcomings as compared to the privileges and bounteous life in these United States. And Russians in turn can not help but discover truths about America dispelling many of the myths about capitalism and warmongering.

Frequent face to face meetings with the Russians may accomplish little on the surface at the time, but since truth is regarded as a key weapon when in one's favor, and we have it overwhelmingly on our side, the more often and effectively it is used, the better.

The greater the spread of truth about the free world, the less it has to fear from Communism.

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

No poem today,
None of that tripe,
On this old mill,
Too hard to type.

Long Beach, Calif.
Tuesday, 7-14.
Mr. D. E. Klotzbeucher,
Managing Editor,
The Desert Sun.
Dear Donald: After having written "Graettinger" for almost 42 years, typing "Klotzbeucher" is just a breeze.

I have just received a long distance call (probably $6 total) from Chicago. Mr. G asks me to inform you that you will not receive an airmail special letter for release Friday, July 17, from him. This Side has been side-tracked.

Seems he just got back from Milwaukee where he went yesterday to visit one niece, and is taking off with only a little wait between trains, for Bridgeman, Mich., to visit another.

Figuring that both owned typewriters, he left my precious portable at the hotel. Then discovered that he wouldn't have time to get a column to you for Friday. Hence, the $6 collect call from the Union Depot in Chicago.

Since he has my beautiful portable with him, I am now struggling with that ancient junk pile which he calls his pet. There is something wrong with the gadget at the left which moves up the paper. There is a part lost and he has patched it up with a makeshift screw and nut. Every other day I have to hold a screw driver in the screw at the top while he works with a pliers on the nut at the bottom.

For many years now I have resisted the temptation to say "pliers with a nut at each end." I'm afraid he might construe that as a frivolous, unkind remark.

There are also several bent paper clips under the stack of illegible notes, railroad time-tables, worthless pari-mutuel tickets and 17 stubby pencils on his desk. These are used to hold type bars and other parts of this old mill, as he calls it, together. I don't know how to use them so I hope this contraption holds together until I get to "yours truly."

Pardon the interruption. That was another collect call, this one probably $12. Told me to tell you to fill in for him Friday. Said that he had lost his overnight bag. Which means that the general store in Bridgeman, Mich., is going to get rid of its loudest pair of pajamas and a razor. He runs to bright colors in pajamas, pink and green and so on. Says it tends to blind burglars.

"Where did you lose your bag?" I asked.
"I didn't lose it. It's in a locker. I lost the key."
"Well, you'll get it back. What a noisy phone booth. I can hardly hear you."

"They got 21 people in a phone booth in Plymouth, England, didn't they? This phone booth is a big one, counter along one side, tables on the other. I'm in the 'Iron Horse'."

The Iron Horse, as I recall it, is a refreshment adjunct to the Union Depot in Chicago.

This should explain the missing episode in Roaming Rupert's travels.

My best to Gretchen and Junior and to you.

Sincerely
Mrs. G.

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

While We were lighting off giant fizzers down at Cape Canaveral, the Russians announced they had shot two dogs and a rabbit into space. Shot them off and brought them back.

There was a picture of one dog and a rabbit on Page One the other day. As an old reporter, I looked at it closely.

The dog, I thought, looked pretty smug.

YOU CANNOT fool a veteran dog reporter. And when I was molding public opinion, for the dailies, I was a specialist in rare dogs. Mostly talking dogs. But also dogs who saved canaries. And dogs who pulled blankets over sleeping cats.

I interviewed all kinds of dogs and got to know their hidden thoughts and facial expressions.

IT IS MY OPINION that the Russian dog—Daring his name—is a phony. The dog in the Russian picture has never been off the ground.

I will tell you why. When I say I was a doggy reporter, I kid you not. I recall being sent out on a rainy day to interview a talking dog. (The editor was absolutely nuts on the subject of talking animals).

"CAN'T I TALK to him by phone?" I said. "It's raining cats and — Well, it's pouring outside."

"Are you mad?" cried the editor. "This dog TALKS! It is the story of the century! On your way!"

Well, I arrived at the house. And the lady and gentleman introduced me to this dog. He was a bulldog and he wore a silk vest with his name embroidered on it. He had a dish with his name engraved on it.

WHAT DOES HE talk to you about? I asked professionally.

"He says 'Mama,'" said the gentleman.

"And 'Papa,'" said the lady. It seemed like a dull conversation. But I asked them to let me dog tell his own story. In his own words.

"Say 'Mama,'" said the gentleman.

The dog looked at him and then at me. "Grrr-uh," he said.

THE MAN LOOKED awed. "Did you hear that?" he said.

"He said 'Mama' just as plain! Now say 'Papa,'" he told the dog.

The dog looked at him and then at me. "Grrr-uh," he said.

"Good heavens," said the man. "I never heard him say 'Papa' so clearly. Did you ever hear anything like it?"

I SAID NO. AND I said it truthfully.

The dog looked at me smugly. Much the same as the expression on the Russian dog. He had the world's greatest con job going. And he knew that nothing I said was going to blow the whistle on him.

WHAT WORD have we got that the Russian dog went into orbit and back? Nothing but the word of a Russian dog reporter.

If I do not trust talking dogs, let me tell you I trust dog reporters even less. Who should know better?

The editor was pacing the floor when I returned. What did he say?" he implored me. "Did he talk?"

Well, I was not going to let that man down—not when I was getting $35 a week and only two night shifts.

"DID HE TALK?" I cried. "Wait until you read this!"

And by the first edition, I had that dog talking like a Southern Senator. The editor was ecstatic. And I looked a little smug—something like a dog that has gone into orbit and back.

The staff bought me a handsome dog collar and advised me to wear it on formal interviews.

The moral of all this being: You can fool some of the people most of the time. But once a dog editor always a skeptic.

EARL WILSON:

Joy, the Shy Sexpot

NEW YORK — Miss Joy Harmon, 19, proprietor of the most astounding figure east of Hollywood, has been trying to play down her sexy look lately—so I took her to dinner and let her tell me about it.

"You see, recently they announced I was going to change my name to 'Joy Forty-two' because my measurement is 42," Joy said when we sat down at the Astor and she ordered a fruit salad.

"Well, that was bad taste, and besides it wasn't true. I never intended to change my name. How would it sound on the phone—is Miss Forty-two there?"

Joy, who plays Sam Levene's sexy secretary in "Make a Million," said "I'm not 42 any longer—I'm only 39½—I lost weight."

"I was always crazy about Marilyn Monroe. I used to wiggle like she did. I was very shy in school; I was embarrassed when the boys whistled at me. I used to eat my lunch in the ladies' room. I was so shy, but I would still wear the tightest sweater and skirts I could get to school. Wasn't that silly?"

Well, it wasn't so silly the night of Mike Todd's famous Madison Square Garden party.

"Mommy took a nightgown she'd hardly ever worn since she was married and made an evening gown out of it. It was the lowest cut evening gown I ever saw. Oh, it was real fitting. They had me sitting on top of a cake at the party."

An agent, Bob Martin, saw her in her coming-out gown and helped her land this Broadway role.

"And now I have a fan club!" Joy exclaimed. "It has about 30 members. They send in $1 and get a wallet picture and a big picture signed. They get a journal, too, of what I'm doing."

Gladys Hart, the president, is also the president of Susan Strassberg's fan club.

Joy rides home every night after the show on the New Haven RR to Westport, Conn., and her father, Homer Harmon, former publicist at the Roxy Theater, meets her.

"Mommy and Daddy are terribly strict with me—they think

I ought to be married when I'm about 30!" she says.

Miss Harmon, whose big ambition is to be on Jack Paar's show (she's been on many others), was wearing a white cotton dress with a big red bow and white polka dots when we met. And her blonde hair was in a pony tail.

"I used to want to impersonate Brigitte Bardot, but it's no good. You have to be yourself. That's why I'm playing my figure down now!" Joy said.

Just to show you how successful she is, when we left the head-waiter said, "Good night, Miss Bardot."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Comic Allan Drake, who said he'd never work with rock 'n' roller Fabian, didn't show up for their Atlantic City Steel Pier show. He claimed "nervous exhaustion," and an AGVA doctor confirmed it. . . . Toots Shor'll undergo a checkup for a knee ailment. (We're sure it's not water on the knee). . . . Jack Entratter of the Las Vegas Sands took an option on a Boris Pasternak book, may film it. . . . Cesar Romero declined a Cuban gov't. post.

Gene Tierney turned down a fat offer to write a book about her experiences. . . . Raphael Montoro, former Cuban diplomat, proposed to dancer Julia Derris. . . . Joan Crawford's ex, Phil Terry, may be singer Ginny Simms' next. . . . Rod Steiger's ex-wife, Sally Gracie, joined Marlon Brando in the "Fugitive Kind" film. . . . Ingemar Johansson was asked to lend his name to a smorgasbord place here, but said he might open one himself. . . . Dan (Steak Joint) Stamper, who's dating Dolores Dorn-Heft (Franchot Tone's ex-wife) will back her off-B-way show.

EARL'S PEARLS:

WISH I'D SAID THAT:

Television's a wonderful thing. You can sit in your own living room, relax — and watch all your wife's favorite shows.

MIKE CONNOLLY:

Not Hit Expected

HOLLYWOOD — Columbia's movie version of Paddy Chayevsky's play, "The Middle of the Night," isn't the hit they expected it to be, despite the starring combination of Kim Novak and Fredrick March — or maybe BECAUSE of it! Hollywood keeps casting aging male stars with much younger actresses in the face of opposition from the public.

Silly sideline on the subject concerns Chayevsky. When told that the picture isn't doing too well at theatres around the country, the playwright pouted, "But I thought Kim Novak was supposed to be a big boxoffice draw!"

MAYOR RICHARD Daley of Chicago, "recuperating" from the bit job of entertaining Queen Elizabeth by attending the U.S. Mayors' Convention here in Los Angeles, will have another civic event on his hands next Dec. 2. That's when Bette Davis, and her husband, Gary Merrill, open for a week at the Windy City's Civic Theatre in "The World of Carl Sandburg."

Hizzoner's eyes lit up when I gave him the "scoop" and he rattled off that line from one of his (and my) favorite poems by Sandburg: "Chicago, City of the Big Shoulders!"

BING AND KATHY Crosby are hoping and praying Thursday, Sept. 10, will be "Hersday."

That's the day Kathy's doctor told her to expect a she-sheep — Bing's first daughter! . . . Add Baby Talk: The first Tuesday in November, according to Ingrid Bergman's sawbones, should be Good News Day for the star and her spouse, Lars Schmidt. That's when their baby is due.

Looks like Liz Taylor will be unable to do "Two for the Seesaw." Whatever Shirley wants Shirley usually gets — and Miss MacLaine has her sights set on Liz's "Seesaw" seat, the same one that won Ruth Roman the Siddons Award of '59 for best performance by an actress.

NAT "KING" COLE heard this one from a Hollywood freeway speedster getting ticketed by a traffic cop: "Driver's license? But officer, with all these new credit cards, where would I PUT it?"

Bob Mitchum has two other movies to make first at MG producer Eddie Grainer is so anxious for Bob's services he has agreed to hold the start of "Chautauqua" until then. For my younger readers, a Chautauqua was a typically good - old - days show-business gimmick of the Gay '90s. Instead of watching TV, our elders would go out to see travelling shows that combined "entertainments" with lectures. The word comes from Chautauqua Lake, N. Y., where the first such "summerstock" show was held.

PLAYWRIGHT BILL ("Bus Stop") Inge is angling Eva Marie Saint for the part of the tawdry tentshow tramp who sidelines as the "star" of stag movies in his new play, "The Loss of Roses" — and after Eva Marie shed her true-to-life interpretations as the sophisticated, sexy heroine of Alfred Hitchcock's "North By Northwest!"

Mickey Rooney will play the starring role of the famous jockey in Kenlan Productions' next movie, "The Life of Johnny Longden."

Dean Jones, all at sea over what songs to sing for his next slicing session for MG Records stopped in at the MGM dressing room of his "Never So Few" co-star Frank Sinatra, and sighed, "Got any rejects, Frank?" . . . I told The Thin Singer I had stopped by to hear Dean Martin Recording his new Capitol album, "Recording it?" asked Frankie. "I heard he was BOTTLING it!"

CHANNEL CHATTER — Warner Bros., desperate for new ideas for teleseries, is combining through Warner Brothers' old movies for them — and getting them! Remember "Tortured Zone," "Tumbleweed," "Rebel Without a Cause" and other walloping Blockbusters? You'll be seeing them as teevee strips.

As a matter of fact, you have already TVied the condensed plots of such famous Warner movies as "Casablanca," "Come Fill the Cup," "Dial M for Murder" and others as single segments of such Warner-TV series as Cheyenne, Maverick and 77 Sunset Strip, that's how desperate the writers are for plots. But now the writers are from the front office is: "Don't throw 'em away on a one-shot — use 'em for an entire series!"

RED SKELTON will record an elpee album (mostly based on his nightclub act) for the new Keel-Lou label just set up by Keely Smith and Louis Prima.

Henny Youngman saw that new movie, "The Four Skulls of Jonathan Drake," and gave it a four-star review — one for each head!

George Murphy introduced Don DeFore like this at the City of Hope's "Night of Stars" benefit show in the Coconut Grove: "This is the only man in the world who enters my bedroom — because that's where my wife and I watch TV!" . . . DeFore came back with this topper: "Next time I do, I'll tip my hat!" . . . Dan Duryea, same affair: "There's only one formula for shooting successful movies in today's trickiest market — shoot 'em cheap, sell 'em hard, and get 'em double featured with Brigitte Bardot movies!"

No Idiot of a Congress

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Even with the Washington Baseball Club's having a fairly good season, the 86th Congress remains by far the best show in town.

Nobody expected Harmon Kilbreth and Jim Allison to hit all those homers, or Pedro Ramos and Camille Pasquel to pitch so many low score games. These feats are gratifying and have put a lot of pep into the American League. But for surprise and satisfaction, for unfolding and unpredictable drama, for significance and portentousness, this Congress takes the cake.

IT IS THE more pleasing because the 86th came here so watered down with Democratic "radicals" that some of us took it for a hydrocephalic idiot.

Only once — in the Admiral Strauss case — did the 86th go a little off its rocker, and this instance was provoked by the Admiral's strong personality, by his over-eager "lobbyists" by an inept White House. Aside from Laffair Strauss, Congress is having the best session of a decade.

CONSIDER FOREIGN aid: Who could guess that the Senate would cut 10 per cent from the President's request and the House would cut close to the same figure? Going back to Lend Lease in 1940, this Share America scheme under a variety of aliases, has fastened itself upon us like the dope habit. Three Presidents in succession became addicts to the narcotic of peace — buying, although two out of the three got war any-tries by shipping tax-supported largesse abroad. In the past few years, under Public Law 480, Congress has permitted the big farm interests to live out of the public purse by dumping tax bought surpluses overseas. How to bring all this madness to a slow-down?

IT WAS NOT imaginable last November, with the farm States going Democratic and even rocked - ribbed Maine's deserting to self-destruction could be slowed in our life-times. But a few days after the July Fourth recess, the 86th Senate had to be restrained by Majority Leader Johnson from ripping still larger multi - million hunks from the authorization of foreign aid.

This Democratic - heavy Congress has made the first significant turn in the long road. A real cutback in the size of funds has begun. A number of other reforms have been initiated. Some of these passed as foreign aid amendments and some must await future passage, but the thing to examine is an X-ray picture of what lies within the mind of Congress.

THERE WAS A strong move to abolish grants in favor of loans and to declare that the whole program would be gradually reduced. There were other moves to turn the military phase of foreign aid over to the Pentagon, to suspend aid to any country which seized American-owned property without just compensation, to refuse aid to nations barring American soldiers of whatever race or creed, to deprive the President of a contingency fund to use at will. The pattern here is plain — it is an anti-aid pattern in the mind of a party that cannot be called isolationist or ungenerous.

On the day before the Senate vote, the upper chamber received the utterly unexpected veto of the Omnibus Housing bill. The President's rejection was not anticipated because both House and Senate had previously cut great hunks of spending from the bill and had agreed on a compromise which the Democratic leaders had called "veto-proof."

BUT STILL MORE astonishing, as I thought in the press gallery, was the reception by the Senate of the President's veto. The Majority Leader responded with honest anger to vent his surprise and disappointment upon the White House action. He rejected the pacifying condolences of Republican Senators Kuchel and Javits.

But after his vehement and justifiable outburst, the Majority Leader relaxed into something like sweet reasonableness. He came close to saying (as did Committee Chairman Sparkman) that Congress would buckle down in the summer heat and attempt to rewrite the housing bill to Ike's specifications.

SHOULD THIS happen, as I think it will, the 86th will add another inning of unexpected moderation to its record. At this point it would be rash to say that any reasonable action — even a good Labor bill or a community - controlled civil rights bill — is impossible. This is the best legislative team that I have seen in my Washington experience. The fools and the nitwits, of course, are always with us. But they have been a sideshow, never the main attraction in this least daffy of all Congresses since World War II.

Gardening in the Desert

Preparing the soil for new planting is probably the most important chore that Mr. Amateur Gardener has to face at this time.

After deciding the spot where the tree, shrub, vine, flowers, etc., are to be planted, the hole dug to a depth commensurate to the size of plant chosen, the soil cleared of all detrimental debris and the urge to garden is strong start to give the plant a good bed.

At this stage of the game strong fertilizers are out. Organic humus, peat moss, leaf mold, and mulch should be worked into the sandy soil and the whole bed given a few good drenchings. There will be plenty of time later, after the plant roots have found a comfortable resting place, and the plant shows new growth before adequate fertilizers are introduced into the soil. We have found this preparation of the soil wise and adequate, be it for roses and cut flowers and all the way up to big trees.

MR. AMATEUR Gardener might be confused by gardening terms that are comparatively new on the market; in fact each month one seems to hop up to further confound him. Host Plant appears frequently; it simply means that the plant in question is host to destructive bugs.

In a nursery he sees a bag marked N16, P16, K8; these are but symbols for the most needed nutrients — nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in that order. The numbers simply note the percentage of each chemical.

ORGANIC MEANS the product of natural origin, manure, fish, and sludge for instance. Synthetically produced fertilizers such as chemical plant foods are inorganic. Both have their place in gardening but the inorganic species need an addition of humus or compost to help maintain bacterial life. Chelate (pronounced ke-late), or iron chelate is added to soil to make the soil's iron available to plants. Without iron chelate there would be little of the soil's own iron used.

Bonsai is a word that the American gardener has picked up to describe a method of pruning, shaping and potting a plant such as small Juniper, thereby giving it a Bonsai look. The word is of Japanese origin and actually fills a bigger field. All in all these are but a few new terms that might puzzle Mr. Amateur Gardener.

DIGRESSING A LITTLE, vacationing in the mountain areas is probably the most popular past-time for the families of low desert residents who thereby dodge the heat of those 110 to 120 degree days, not to mention the oven heat of some evenings. However, not all of them dodge that plaguing plant known as Poison Ivy or Poison Oak.

Some of the victims swear they have not been near any poison ivy; maybe they are right, poison ivy can be picked up off the hair of a dog. It is not like measles or chicken pox — poison ivy does not provide any future immunity. It can't be considered as really contagious, two people might contact poison ivy, one might suffer and the other be free. Moral: watch out for Poison Ivy. We can't advise you to stay away from the mountains; at the beaches one might run into a shark and they are really mean.

Veteran Home Appraisals Go Up During May

An increase of 73 per cent in appraisal requests for proposed dwellings was experienced during the month of May, the Los Angeles Veterans Administration Regional Office reported today. Applications for home loan guaranty dropped 12.3 per cent during May to 1,632 from April's 1,861. Appraisal requests for existing units increased 11.2 per cent to 229 compared to 206 in April. GI starts were down 19.2 per cent from April's 1,397 to 1,129 in May. The increase in appraisal requests for proposed dwellings was up to 3,175 from 1,835 in April.

TEAR PLASTIC BAG WHEN DISCARDING

Tearing up, or tying in knots, the cast-off plastic bag was recommended today by Paul Young, California executive of the National Safety Council, as a prelude to disposing of the bags in trash cans.

"These preliminary steps," said Young, "are valuable safety measures. The reason is pretty obvious. Once you have shredded a bag or tied it in knots, even if a small child roots it out of the trash can he will not get in much trouble with it."

U.S. PUBLIC HEALTH records show, said Young, that virtually all accidents involving the bag in the past six months have been due to parents or other adults giving the bags to infants as a plaything or re-using the bags as protective covers in cribs and playpens.

Few children in the older age groups have been harmed by the bags. "However," Young said, "there is no excuse for taking a chance."

AWARE THAT millions of the ultra-thin bags are used daily in American homes, often for storing

Loan Interest Upped for Vets

An increase to 5½ per cent in the maximum interest rate to be charged on GI loans is now in effect, Harry M. Webster, Manager of the Los Angeles Regional Office of the Veterans Administration announced today.

At the same time, Webster emphasized that the new rate increase would not apply to loans previously closed.

LOANS CLOSED on or after the effective date of July 2, 1959, may carry the new rate unless the lender had made a commitment to grant the loan at a lower rate.

Webster said that for the past several months GI loans have been difficult to obtain, because lenders have been able to get better yields on other investments. Despite the tightening in the available supply of mortgage funds, it is hoped the increased rate will bring many lenders back into the program.

THE FORMER rate was 4½ per cent. The increase was based on the provision of Public Law 86-73, approved by the President on June 30.

VA direct loans will also carry the increased interest rate.

The deadline date for World War II veterans to apply for loans is July 25, 1960. Korea veterans have until Feb. 1, 1965.

Lugardo Fontes Rites Held Today

Funeral services were conducted here today for Miss Lugardo Fontes, 81, of 295 Saturnino Road, who died Wednesday at a Corona convalescent home after an illness of three years.

A native of Sonora, Mexico, Miss Fontes had lived in Palm Springs for 30 years.

She leaves two brothers, Manuel and Francisco, and a sister, Carmen Fontes, all of Palm Springs.

Mass was held this morning at Our Lady of Guadalupe Church, with Rev. Thomas Flahive officiating. Interment followed in Palm Springs Cemetery. Wiefels and Son Mortuary was in charge of funeral arrangements.

TWO SITUATIONS 'WELL IN HAND' was the report from Corp. Bruce B. White, USMC, after he delivered his wife, Jean, or twin boys last week. Mother and the tykes—four-pound, four-ounce Eric three-pound, twelve-ounce Ernest—were reported doing "just fine" at Twenty-nine Palms Ince Memorial Hospital. Corporal White was reported "still a little nervous" and the Marines at Twenty-nine Palms were reportedly looking back through the 183-year history of the Corps for some precedent for obstetrics. # KHRUSHCHEV NOW GOMULKA'S FRIEND

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign Editor

On the morning of Oct. 19, 1956, a furious Nikita Khrushchev stepped from a Russian airliner at Warsaw's Airport.

"Who is that?" he demanded, meaning a slender, tall-faced man of medium height who wore steel-rimmed glasses under a high forehead made more so by a receding hairline.

"I is I, Gomulka, the man you sent to jail," came the calm rejoinder.

THE IMMEDIATE fate of Poland hung in the balance that morning. Immediate cause of Khrushchev's rage was the fact that Gomulka, back in power and "rehabilitated" after four years in jail, had just fired Soviet Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky as police defense minister and declared Poland's right to its own path to socialism.

A FEW MONTHS earlier, in Moscow, Khrushchev had promulgated his famous de-Stalinization program and opened a Pandora's Box of troubles. Russia's seething satellites were seeing a chance to break free from Moscow's iron rule, in just five days that unrest would blow up into flaming revolt in Hungary.

So, it was an harassed and irritable Khrushchev that met Gomulka for the first time that morning.

ARMS FLAILING, shouting insults, Khrushchev told Gomulka that the Soviet Union had not shed its blood over Poland during World War II to see it snatched away now by an upstart.

It is probable that no outsider ever will know for sure the exact course of events which followed in the conference between the two at Poland's Parliament House.

One version is that Gomulka would have lost his head then and there had not a colleague thoughtfully thrown a cordon of Polish tanks around the building and another had changed the guard at Radio Warsaw.

IN THE END, Gomulka is said to have threatened to go on the air with a broadcast message, telling the Polish people what Khrushchev was demanding and what Gomulka was refusing.

Whatever the events, Khrushchev retreated and agreed to a later meeting in Moscow at which Poland's pressing economic needs would be discussed.

It was a tremendous personal victory for Gomulka who ever since that time has trod the narrow path between the dictates of Moscow and the explosive nationalism of the Polish people.

THE EVENTS of three years ago were in sharp contrast to those of Tuesday when Khrushchev once again stepped from an airliner at Warsaw Airport. This time it was a smiling Khrushchev who told Gomulka:

"Your party and ours share the

McDevitt to Face Phils As Dodgers Start Move

Giant Split Leaves L.A. 1 Game Out

White Sox First
In A.L. After
Yanks Double Injuns

PHILADELPHIA — (UPI) — The Los Angeles Dodgers, only one game behind the National League pace, opened an important four-game series tonight with the eight-place Philadelphia Phillies.

With the league-leading San Francisco Giants entering a series against the tough Pirates, the Dodgers stand a good chance of working their way up into the rarified air at the top of the standings.

DANNY McDEVITT (8-6) will oppose Jim Owens (4-8) tonight. The Dodgers will be counting on McDevitt to pitch them to their sixth straight victory over the Phils.

The Dodgers watched San Francisco split a doubleheader with Philadelphia yesterday to retain a one-game lead in the N.L. chase. The Giants came back with a 1-0 win in the nightcap after losing the opener, 6-4.

The Cubs defeated the Braves for the third straight time, 4-2, and the Reds downed the Cardinals, 7-5.

THE WHITE SOX took over the American League lead by one game by splitting a doubleheader with the Red Sox while the Yankees were taking a twin-bill from the Indians. Chicago beat Boston in the opener, 4-3, and Boston won the second game, 5-4.

The Yankees won their opener from the Indians, 7-5, in 10 innings and the nightcap, 4-0. Washington licked Detroit, 5-2, and Kansas City nipped Baltimore, 4-3.

Tiger, Calhoun In TV Rematch

SYRACUSE, N. Y. — (UPI) — Tonight's featured boxing show, like so much summer television fare, is a repeat: a return 10-round match between Dick Tiger of Nigeria and Rory Calhoun of White Plains, N. Y.

But if the two promising middleweights put on a show as good as their first encounter six weeks ago in New York, few viewers will complain.

FIGHT RESULTS

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Paulie Armistead, 132½, Los Angeles, outpointed Mauro Vasquez, 135½, Mexico City (10).

THE SPORTS BEAT

Sid Eyes Boxers, Nixes KOs

SAN FRANCISCO — (UPI) — Sid Flaherty, one of the most successful light managers of our time, is looking for a rosy future.

The recently fistic expert guided Carl (Bobo) Olson to the world Middleweight crown; Eddie Machen to a position for a while as No. 1 challenger for the heavyweight title; and had Young (19) Denny Moyer in the ring fighting for the world welterweight throne last week.

BUT NOW HE HAS a couple of heavyweight prospects so good that very few will get in the ring with them.

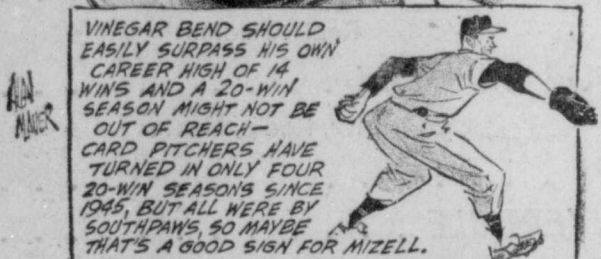

The boys are Thad Spencer, 16, a six-foot, 180-pounder; and Johnny Massey, 17, a 6-3, 190-pounder.

"These boys have not fought as professionals yet," says Flaherty.

SWEET SEASON - - - - By Alan Mauer

WILMER MIZELL, ST. LOUIS SOUTHPAW AND PRIDE OF VINEGAR BEND, ALA., IS HAVING ANYTHING BUT A SOUR SEASON. HAS BEEN AVERAGE ALMOST ONE THIRD OF THE CLUB'S WINS.

VINEGAR BEND SHOULD EASILY SURPASS HIS OWN CAREER HIGH OF 14 WINS AND A 20-WIN SEASON MIGHT NOT BE OUT OF REACH—CARD PITCHERS HAVE TURNED IN ONLY FOUR 20-WIN SEASONS SINCE 1945, BUT ALL WERE BY SOUTHPAWS. SO MAYBE THAT'S A GOOD SIGN FOR MIZELL.

Elks-Boys' Club Beat Rancheros, Cinch Colt Title

The Elks-Boys' Club entry in the Coachella Valley Recreation District Colt League prepped for its Saturday night doubleheader with a hot-shot Los Angeles team by beating Indio's Rancheros last night, 4-3, in Indio.

The locals cinched at least a tie for the league title with the win.

The local Colts will play the Southern Area Boys' Club of Los Angeles — a Los Angeles Times charity team — in two games beginning at 6 p.m., Saturday, in the Polo Grounds here.

It was too much Henry (Sonny) Heuck for the Rancheros last night. Henry, who aided his team's last victory with some exemplary bat work, lined a double with two men on last night to drive across the deciding runs in the fifth inning.

Ron Bailey took credit for the Villager's win.

Line score and batteries:
Indio Rancheros ..... 002 100-3 4 3
Elks-Boys' Club ..... 100 12-4 3 0

Biltmore Nets First Place On 6-1 Win

Green Hurls, Bats
Biltmore to Victory
Over Mexican Colony

Biltmore Hotel backed up Neal Green's 3-hit pitching with a crushing attack to defeat Mexican Colony, 6-1, and move back into a tie for first place in the Desert Softball League.

Green horsecollared the Colony team in every frame up to the seventh inning when an error moved a man into position to score on an infield hit.

THE GAME WAS a tight one until the sixth inning when the Biltmore taking a 1-0 lead in the third.

In the sixth, singles by D. D. Hines and Charlie Black and doubles by Leon Kindy and Green combined with two disastrous errors by Colony infielders — led to a 5-run outburst.

GREEN TURNED out to be the leading batter for the evening. He netted two other doubles for a total of three. The Biltmore win placed them in a first-place tie with the Colony team.

Littler Leads Insurance Golf; Tight Battle in Public Links

WETHERSFIELD, Conn. — (UPI) — Gene Littler of Singing Hills, Calif., who is happy to admit that he once again is at the peak of his game, carried a two-stroke lead today into the second round of the eighth annual Insurance City Open golf tournament.

Littler, who only recently emerged from a long slump, fired a seven-under-par 64 over the Wethersfield Course Thursday to show the way to a field of 156.

Wes Ellis Jr. of Aldercrest, N. J., a tournament dark horse, was alone in second place at 66 while Fred Hawkins of El Paso, Tex., and big Al Bessellink of Grossinger, N. Y., were tied for third at 67. Then came six players tied at 68, including pre-tourney favorite Art Wall, the Masters champion from Pocono Manor, Pa.

AT ALLIANCE, Ohio, young Kathy Anne Whitworth, regarded as one of the real "comers" on the women's professional golf tour, held a one-stroke lead today going into the second round of the 72-hole $12,500 Alliance International.

The 19-year-old miss from out of the way Jal, N.M., shot a one under par 70 Thursday on the first 18 holes to take the lead over such established stars as veteran Patty Berg, Betty Hicks, Fay Crocker and Ohio amateur champion, Betty Kerby, all who had par 71s.

AND, AT DENVER, two veteran amateur golfers and two eager collegians remained today to battle for the championship of the National Public Links golf tournament at Denver's Wellshire Municipal Course.

The collegians—Don Essig, 20-year-old Louisiana State University student from Indianapolis, Ind., and William Wright, 23, a student at Western Washington College — met in one semi-final match today.

AT LONG BEACH, 32 golfers led by favorites Jerry Barber, Lloyd Mangrum and Eric Monti entered the third round today of the Southern California PGA Championships.

STANFORD JOINS AAWU CONFERENCE; NORTHWEST 'FROZE'

STANFORD, Calif. — (UPI) — "And then there were five..." Stanford University dropped its hard-to-get act today and became a charter member of the Athletic Association of Western Universities, boosting to five the number of Pacific Coast Conference schools joining a new group which followed the collapse of the 43-year-old PCC.

The Indians' decision was announced Thursday night by University President Wallace Sterling.

Left to shift for themselves was the erstwhile northwest PCC faction of Oregon, Oregon State, Washington State and Idaho.
